on this 20-mile front and have captured many prisoners.

The fighting is developing greater and greater intensity as the Germans endeavor by counter-attack to force from the Allies the gain they have won in the first offensive rush.

The British officials have flashed word to army headquarters that they have broken the German forward system of defense along a front of 16 miles. Serre and Montanhan have been captured. A fresh attack has been launched at Beaumont Hamel. An intense struggle is raging for the possession of Contalmaison. The British also have taken Laboiselle
